

REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

December 28, 2011

Rechler Equity Partners has hired former Suffolk County Economic Development assistant Eilen Cea as director of Tenant and Community Development.

Her primary focus will be extending Rechler Equity's presence on the east end of Long Island, including the Hampton Business District at Gabreski Airport.

The 55-acre commerce and technology center was awarded to Rechler Equity by Suffolk County in 2009 and is scheduled to break ground in 2012.

Before joining Rechler Equity, Cea spent over two years with Suffolk County Economic Development assisting with site development at County-owned Gabreski Airport as it transitioned into a business and technology park.

Prior positions included director of business development for Beigelman, Feiner & Feldman P.C. and account executive with the Katonah Group.

Cea attended Fordham University/CUNY, graduating Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science degree before earning her Masters in Criminal Justice.

•••